

Best in class – Product or Services !

A leading steel contractor focused on building international Structurally complex and visually impressive steel structures to become landmarks of international standards and acclaim has recently entered the India market.

With major infrastructure contracts on hand, they were looking for a company who can not only help them in providing welding consumables and equipment but also help them set up a complete workshop and fulfill their manpower training requirements. Needless to say that everything was required on an urgent basis.

Without any doubt, the customers 1st choice was ADOR WELDING LIMITED, based on a wide Product Range, Superior Service and Technical Knowledge (ADOR Institute of Welding Technology). The AWL Team came in action promptly and provided all the required welding consumables and equipment within 48 hours. In addition to that the technical expert team from AWL visited the customer premises and helped them set up a complete workshop and train the manpower.

As always, the Customer was pleased with the prompt and efficient response/ service from AWL. Our commitment to nation building continues...
